

CRIMSON

FULL ARTIST BIOGRAPHY

Crimson is a trans, non-binary artist from Maidstone, Kent, and now thriving in the vibrant music scene of Brighton, East Sussex. Crimson's identity encapsulates an androgynous allure that transcends norms within the indie-rock realm. Crafting narratives from the heart of intimate relationships, Crimson's lyricism is a poetic dance through the realms of heartbreak, the thrill of falling in love, and the complexities of lust.

Navigating effortlessly between clear singer/songwriter vulnerability and the gritty influence of rock or punk, Crimson's sonic landscape becomes an eclectic journey within the broader spectrum of the indie genre. From delicate, introspective ballads to anthems pulsating with raw energy, Crimson invites listeners into a world painted with unapologetic authenticity—a realm where music serves as a bridge between diverse emotions and experiences.

Crimson made their debut performance at 3G Treatment's Redemption festival 2022 at The New Cross Inn. Since then they have had an amazing time performing at other venues with some of their favourites being Tunbridge Wells Forum and Hastings Pier for Pride.

Following the release of their first EP, Bittersweet (2023), they have indulged in a unique style to their music making, collaborating with new artists and genres. Within the next year you will hear sporadic releases of these experimental works, including Selfish Self Motivated to be released 19th April 2024.
